

A Guide to Services Available to the Residents of Charney Bassett

Published by Charney Bassett Parish Council

2018

This Guide was compiled to help newcomers to the village. It provides information on services and facilities available to villagers. While every effort has been made to ensure the information was up to date at the time of printing, the Parish Council cannot guarantee the information is correct. The latest version of the guide is available on the Parish Council Web site at www.charneybassett.org.uk. If you need any further information please contact the Parish Clerk, Trevor Brown at wickcottage@btinternet.com (changing to parishclerk@charneybassett.org.uk from 1 April).

Services listed are those which are likely to be the most convenient to residents of Charney Bassett and listing does not imply any recommendation of the services on offer.

Telephone numbers are local 01235 numbers except where a different dialling code is given.

WELCOME TO CHARNEY BASSETT

The village of Charney Bassett lies in open country beside the meandering river Ock. It is situated in the north of the Vale of White Horse, in Gainfield Hundred, and there has been a settlement here since Anglo-Saxon times. The earliest surviving record shows there was a grant of lands to the Abbot of Abingdon Abbey in 811 AD. The land originally was largely marsh and the meaning of 'Charney' is Cearn-isle or island beside the river Cearn

To the north of the village is Cherbury camp, an Iron Age fortification, the meaning of the name being the barrow beside the river Cherne or Cearn.

St. Peter's Church has some sections as old as the 12th century – a fuller history is available in the Church. The Church is normally open during the day and at service times, which vary throughout the month. For access at other times, contact the churchwardens (see Church notice board).

Charney Manor was built as a grange for Abingdon Abbey when it owned extensive land around the village. It is now a Quaker house and conference centre. For further information see the Manor Web site.

Opposite the Manor and Church is the Water Mill now owned by Charney Bassett Parish Council and undergoing restoration by volunteers. The Mill is open for visitors on a number of occasions throughout the year.

The village comprises a population of approximately 230 and 122 dwellings.

More comprehensive information about the history of the village can be found on the Charney Bassett history web site - <http://history.charneybassett.org.uk/>.

For up-to-date Parish Council news and information about upcoming village events see Charney Chatter, published monthly on line. Email echatter@btopenworld.com to subscribe to your monthly copy.

Applications will be considered by the Trustees who meet in January, May and September. For further details contact Pam Edwards, Charney Bassett, e-mail: cletclerk@gmail.com.

Charney Bassett Village College

The College was set up in January 2001 by the Parish Council. Its objectives are:

- to provide facilities in Charney Bassett to assist villagers to learn new skills;
- to act as a channel through which CLET funds can be used to benefit villagers;
- to improve the viability of the Village Hall by putting it to greater use.

For information on current College activities, contact Christine Trotman, e-mail cbvillagecollege@btinternet.com.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT

Charney Bassett is governed by a three-tier council system, parish, district and county.

Parish Council

The Parish Council is responsible for local matters within the confines of the village and should be the first port of call for villagers requiring advice or action on village issues. It maintains the village environment either by paying for such things as grass cutting and street cleaning or by calling upon the services of the District or County Councils on matters such as planning applications and highway maintenance. Contact with the Council can be made via an individual councillor or The Clerk.

The Council has five elected members and is served by the Parish Clerk. Meetings (open to the public) are held in the Village Hall on the second Wednesday of the odd-numbered months (January, March, etc.) starting at 7.30 pm. The date and agenda of each meeting is advertised on the Notice Board by the bus shelter. Minutes of meetings are available on the Charney Web site.
